Unwritten History.
Mr. Alexander H. Stevens has written the following letter to the editor of the New York Herald:

I have noticed, in a late issue of your paper, an article by Hon. Thurlow Weed, entitled, "An Unwritten Chapter of History," in which Mr. Weed gives a "narrative of how the Herald's influence was obtained for President Lincoln's administration." After relating the incidents which preceded his arrival at Mr. Bennett's mansion on the Heights, the following sentence occurs:

"We then walked for half an hour around the grounds, when a servant came and announced dinner. The dinner was a frugal one, during which, until the fruit was served, we held general conversation. I then frankly informed him of the object of my visit, closing with the remark that Mr. Lincoln deemed it more important to secure the Herald's support than to obtain a victory in the field. Mr. Bennett replied that the abolitionists, aided by Whig members of Congress, had provoked a war, of the danger of which he had been warning the country for years; and that now, when they were reaping what they had sown, they had no right to call upon him to help them out of a difficulty that they had deliberately brought upon themselves."

"I listened without interruption for ten minutes to a bitter denunciation of Greeley, Garrison, Seward, Sumner, Giddings, Phillips and myself, as having, by irritating and exasperating the South, brought the war upon the country. I then, in reply, without denying or attempting to explain any of his positions, stated the whole question from our standpoint. I informed him of facts and circumstances within my own knowledge, showing conclusively the deliberate designs of seceding the Union to prevent California from coming into the Union as a free State. I gave him the then known particulars of an interview of Messrs. Toombs, Stephens and Cleggman, members of Congress from Georgia and North Carolina, with General Taylor. The object of that interview was to induce General Taylor, a Southern man and slaveholder, to vote the bill permitting California to enter the Union as a free State. It was a stormy interview, with threats of violence on one hand and of hanging on the other. The facts were communicated to Senator Hamlin of Maine, and myself within ten minutes after the interview closed."

I put the last part of this extract in italics. It is the only matter in this "chapter of history" that I wish at this time to notice; and the only notice I wish to take of it to assure Mr. Weed and all your readers that no such interview of Messrs. Toombs, Cleggman and myself ever took place with General Taylor. How he and Mr. Hamlin could have been informed within ten minutes after the particulars of an interview which never occurred I do not know; but I do know I never asked General Taylor to vote any bill whatever during his administration. I know also, and the records show it, that the bill permitting California to enter the Union as a free State did not pass Congress until after General Taylor's death; I do, moreover, know that I and my colleagues, Mr. Toombs, favored the admission of California as a free State under the then constitution during the whole of that stormy session. This record will also show, we never raised an objection to the admission of California on account of her anti-slavery constitution. In one of the stormiest debates I ever heard in the House of Representatives my colleague, Mr. Toombs, said:—"We do not oppose California on account of the anti-slavery constitution. It was her right, and she acted unwisely in its exercise; that is her business." What he and I maintained was that the same rights which the free people of California had exercised for themselves in forming their constitution should be equally secured to the free people of other Territories of the United States when they came to form their constitutions. How far this portion of Mr. Weed's narrative may have influenced the course of the Herald toward Mr. Lincoln's administration I know not, but I do most solemnly protest against its being received as a correct item in the history of this country.

MYSTERY OF DREAMS.—It is related that a man fell asleep as the clock tolled the first stroke of twelve. He awakened the echo of the twelfth stroke had died away, having, in the interval, dreamed that he committed a crime, was detected after five years, tried and condemned; the shock of finding the halter about his neck aroused him to consciousness, when he discovered that all these events had happened in an infinitesimal fragment of time. Mohammed, wishing to illustrate the wonders of sleep, told how a certain man, being a slave, found himself, for his pride, made a poor fisherman; that he lived as one for sixty years, bringing up a family and working hard; and how, upon waking up from this long dream, so short a time had been asleep that the narrow necked gourd bottle filled with water, which he knew he overturned as he fell asleep, had not time in which to empty itself. How fast the soul travels when the body is asleep! Often, when we awake, we shrink from going back into the dull routine of a sordid existence, regretting the pleasant life of dreamland. How is it that sometimes, when we go into a strange place, we fancy that we have seen it before? Is it possible that when one has been asleep the soul has floated away, seen the place, and has that memory of it which so surprises us? In a word, how far deal is the life of man, how far?

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.
After Forty Years' trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials of its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility.
It is eminently a Family Medicine, and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and money.

DOCTORS' BILLS.
Your Regulator is one of the best family medicines I ever used. I have not spent one dollar for my family for medicine in five years, only for your Regulator, and must say it does all it says it will. You can also recommend it in Colic for Stock, it having cured a fine male of mine worth five hundred dollars.—J. A. Nelson, Macon, Ga.

The Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, weakness and DEATH will ensue.
If you feel DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent Headache, MOUTHER TASTES, bad Appetite and Tongue Coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.
"I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect."—Hon. Alex. H. Stephens.

Governor of Alabama.
"Your Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am persuaded it is a valuable addition to the medical science."—Gov. J. Gill Shorter, Ala.

"I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure."—H. P. Thigpen.

Baltimore Episcopal Methodist.
This medicine is acknowledged to have no equal as a Liver Medicine, containing those Southern Roots and Herbs which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail.

Lady's Endorsement.
"I have given your medicine a thorough trial, and in no case has it failed to give full satisfaction."—Ellen McCreath, Chatahouchee, Fla.

Professional.
"From actual experience in the use of this medicine in my practice I have been, and am, fully convinced it is a purgative medicine."—Dr. J. W. Mason.

Florida M. E. Conference.
"I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it an invaluable remedy. I have not failed to give relief in any instance."—Rev. W. F. Easterling.

President Gilethorpe College.
"Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure."—Rev. David Willis, my 11
